Shoals Measure Is Back At Start

Adoption of Underwood Private Leasing Bill Brings New Question

NEEDS UNANIMOUS BACKING

Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Measure Also Before Representatives

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—The Muscle Shoals problem was back in the house where the four-year-old fight over the disposition of the property started

It was returned by the senate in the form of the Underwood private leasing bill adopted as a substitute for the house measure proposing a lease to Henry Ford.

Whether this measure will be sent to conference between the two houses or will be referred to the military committee is the first question the house must determine. Objections by a single member would serve at least to delay the sending of it to conference. Supporters of the Underwood bill will make every effort to get it before managers on the part of the two houses in the hope that some sort of legislation finally disposing of the question will be enacted at this session

Oopponents want to have it referred to a committee in the belief that this step would result in the matter going over for disposition by the new congress

Should the legislation be referred to conference it is generally believed that it will be rewritten in large measure to conform to the views of President Coolidge as outlined in his annual message to congress last December. He proposed either sale or lease and as a last alternative government operation.

Washington, D. C. — Consideration of the $39,000,000 rivers and harbors authorization bill was the order of business in the house Thursday under an agreement limiting general debate to two hours

Friends of the measure, hopeful of speeding its course, pointed out that the amount conformed with the wishes of administration who several weeks ago informed the house and rivers and harbors committee that approximately $31,000,000 must be pared from the $52,000 000 bill reported last year to comply with President Coolidge's program of economy

The bill provides that no part of the amount recommended shall be authorized for expenditure until after the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, and not more than $10,000,000 shall be appropriated for any succeeding fiscal year for the proposed projects

Washington, D. C.—With its first report on relief measures for the livestock industry placed in the president's hands, the agriculture commission was ready Thursday to go forward with the second phase of its studies—cooperative marketing of agricultural products

The president was told by the commission that the federal intermediate credit banks are able to handle the credit emergency with the industry but that tariff protection, reduced transportation charges and a new policy for grazing cattle on public lands are needed The commission's views concerning the tariff and transportation questions will be submitted later as part of its program for relief of agriculture as a whole. For the present the commission will center its study of the marketing question about agricultural relief bills pending in congress.

SLEMP QUITS AS SECRETARY TO EXECUTIVE

Representative Everett Sanders Will Take Post After March 4

By Associated Press

SLEMP

Sanders of Indiana

The decision of Mr. Slemp who has been secretary to Mr Coolidge since he entered the White House, became known Thursday after he had returned from a trip to New York.

Representative Sanders will resign from the house on March 4, not having been a candidate for reelection He was director of the Republican national committee's speakers bureau during the campaign and is a member of the house steering committee Mr Slemp's decision to retire was due to several factors, including a desire to return to the direction of his extensive business interests.

It had been the intention of Mr Sanders to return to the private practice of law in Indiana but he was prevailed upon to accept the post by Mr Coolidge.

It was the understanding when the name of Mr. Sanders was proposed for the Vice Presidential nomination at the republican national convention in Cleveland last June that he would be entirely acceptable to the President His name was not pressed there, however, when opposition developed in the Indiana delegation

In the Successor to Mr. Slemp the President will have as Secretary" man similarly equipped in his knowledge of congressiani matters, as Mr. Sanders is rounding out eight years as a member of the house. He will be 48 years old March 8.

EXPECT SANTINI MURDER CASE TO END ON THURSDAY

Size of Slayer and Victim Is Stressed as Defendant Pleads Self Defense

Hurley—The jury in the Paul Santini murder trial was expected to be given the case early Thursday afternoon with final arguments opening Thursday morning Judge G. N Risjord placed no time limit on arguments and with an array of five attorneys in the case the arguments were expected to consume considerable time

Self defense was the plea of the defendant when he took the witness stand late Wednesday and told how he was first struck by Oscar Nordby. For the first time he told what he had in his hand when he struck Nordby, saying it was a large key that was shaped like an old fashioned clock key and about as large around as the barrel of a pistol

Defense counsel sought to discredit the whisperings that Santini was an "eye gouger" and brought out testimony from the defendant that he struck blindly and in a rage and didn't know where he had hit Nordby.

The size of the two men was stressed Santini testified he was five feet tall and weighed 145 pounds and Mrs Hans C. Hansen, of Duluth, sister of Nordby, testified that her brother was five feet eight inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. He had been a blacksmith for 32 years, she said, and was 48 years old.

CABINET WILL STAY INTACT AFTER MAR. 4

Coolidge Plans no Upheavals in Policy or Personnel After Inauguration

DAVIS MAY RETAIN POST

Appointment of Houghton Is Following Up of Hughes Policy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by The Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge is planning no upheavals either in policy or personnel with the beginning of his new administration.

The cabinet will remain intact so far as the president at present is aware. This means he is not seeking to bring about further changes and that only the desire of the individual secretaries to retire to private life for personal reasons will persuade Mr. Coolidge to add new people to his cabinet.

The decision of the secretary of labor, James J Davis, is a case in point. Mr. Davis has business interests connected with the Loyal Order of the Moose and he felt compelled to take up the matter of further public service with his colleagues in that organization As soon as it became known that a vacancy might occur in the department of labor, the friends of the various candidates began to besiege the White House The selection of a new secretary seemed to threaten all sorts of antagonisms because of the sharp differences of opinion as to the kind of man who should be named.

EXTEND DAVIS' LEAVE

When Mr. Coolidge, therefore, found that the man already on the job might be able to shape his plans to stay on he was gratified. The Moose organization has consented to extend Mr. Davis' leave from active duty and Mr Coolidge has let it be known he is glad to have the secretary remain

Coupled with this information, the White House made it clear that other changes were not forseen. No resignations have actually been presented The chances are some will be presented when March 4 arrives or shortly thereafter.

So far as personnel is concerned, Mr. Coolidge did feel an obligation to keep Harding appointees but he takes entire responsibility for all acts that required his approval. In the department of state, for instance, while Mr. Hughes has been the author of the principal policies of the American government in foreign relations, these policies were approved step by step by Mr. Coolidge who feels complete responsibility for them. That is why the White House officially set at rest rumors of a change in foreign policy when the newspapermen gathered there for their usual conferences Tuesday afternoon.

BACKS HUGHES' POLICY

The selection of Ambassador Houghton now in Berlin to be the American ambassador to Great Britain really is a carrying out of the Hughes policies even more emphatically than may appear on the surface. Mr. Hughes has believed that diplomatic promotions should come from the service itself. He has insisted in his public speeches that America's foreign policy can best be executed by a trained personnel. No more impressive application of the principal could have been given than by the elevation of the American ambassador to Great Britain to be secretary of state and the American ambassador to Berlin to take the past at London But while Mr Hughes like other secretaries of state, has recommended a policy in itself commendable it could not succeed without the consent and authorization of the president who is beset by political influence and pressure to follow the old plan of using the diplomatic service to pay off political debts

This attending the meeting included mayor, city council members and representatives of commercial bodies, shipping and industrial interests.

The conference ends Friday when vigorous protest against Chicago's diversion of water will be offered by the resolutions committee adopted by the conference and telegraphed to the secrtary of war and congress, William George Bruce of Milwaukee, president of the Great Lakes Harbors association (American and Canadian) said.

Addressing the morning meeting, Mr Bruce said the Chicago sanitation scheme with its diversion of water is not only illegal but "constitutes the most gigantic blunder of modern times.

CHICAGO PROFITS

"It conserves the health of Chicago by menacing the health of the Illinois river district residents, who makes a wholesale raid upon the Great Lakes in order to maintain a profitable waterpower at a cost of three times that profit to the commerce of the Great Lakes, he said.

Mr. Bruce characterized as unsound what he described as the attempt to demonstrate that the "maximum flow of lake waters is required to render the Illinois and Mississippi rivers navigable during low water periods" He asserted that the increased flow did more damage in flood period than good in low water stage

Cities represented in the conference include Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Toronto, Montreal, Kingston, Ont, Duluth, Toledo, Erie, Pa., Ashtabula, O., Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Racine and Green Bay, Wis., Manistee and Ludington, Mich, and many others

Age Deprives Army Of Two Noted Chiefs

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—By coincidence of their birth on the same day, 64 years ago, two major generals, both with long military careers crowned by conspicuous service with the American army in the World war, passed from active service Thursday under the age retirement law.

War department records show that Major General Robert L. Bullard, commanding the Second Corps area at Governor's island, and Major General Charles G Morton, commanding the Ninth corps area at San Francisco, were born Jan 15, 1861 The passage of 46 years since General Morton entered the military academy from Massachusetts in July 1879 gives him a service record just two years longer than that of his comrade from Alabama, who put on the cadet uniform in July 1881

Letters appraising the years of conspicuous service by both officers were handed them by Secretary Weeks on turning over their commands to appointed successors

In his letter to General Bullard, the war secretary recalled that it was he who led the first American division to enter the front line of battle in France, the first to file on German forces, the first to take a German prisoner, and the first to pierce the hostile positions in the battle of Cantigny—the first American offensive of the war.

The achievements of General Morton as commander of the twenty-ninth Divison and during his detail as military observer for the American forces in France were recounted in praiseworthy fashion by Secretary Weeks in his letter to the Ninth Corps commander.

The records of both officers Secretary Weeks said had served to fix the high standards of their profession before the eyes of both the nation and the army.

Savants Desire Cold Weather For Eclipse

By Associated Press

Williams Bay—Weather well below zero is desired for Saturday, Jan. 24, when observations and photographs of the eclipse of the sun will be attempted at Pewahic hill at Iron Mountain, Mich, according to Prof. Oliver L. Lee of Yerkes observatory, who is in charge of the arrangements for the work to be done at Pewahic hill.

"Wednesday would have been ideal," Professor Lee said.

"The mercury stood 8 or 9 degrees below zero and the sun came up crystal clear. Similar weather conditions on Jan. 24 will be ideal for our work."

Professor Lee explained that the observations as well as the photographs will be made out of doors.

"There has been some misapprehension as to how the work is to be done," Professor Lee said "We are building a shack on Pewahic hill, but will not use it for observation purposes. That work will be done out in the open The shack will be used for assembling the equipment We expect to have everything assembled two days before the eclipse We will then take the instruments to be used in the observations outside and mount them. After tests are made they will be covered On the morning of the eclipse all we will have to do is uncover them and go to work

"True, there will be a stove in the shack. We are praying for weather well below zero and have no desire to freeze Our work can be best accomplished at Pewahic hill out of doors But be expect to take refuge in the shack from time to time to warm ourselves."

ROSEBUSH URGES PROMOTION POLICY FOR MILL EMPLOYES

Appleton Man Is Among Chief Speakers at State Employment Conference

Mills and factories should adopt a policy of promotion from within for employes, according to Judson G Rosebush, president of Patten Paper Co., who was one of the principal speakers at the First Wisconsin Conference on Employment Management and Industrial Relations held Monday at Madison. The conference, which was the most important industrial meeting ever held in the state and the first of its kind in the United States, was fostered by the Milwaukee Employment Managers association, the university economics department and the university extension division in order to promote the adoption of standard principles in labor mangement in Wisconsin. The program included exhibits of employment charts, books, pamphlets and bulletins, a group of lectures and discussions and a banquet. The Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. of Appleton and Kaukauna and the Menasha Woodenware Co. of Menasha, were among the first to respond to the invitations sent out. F. F. Martin, coordinator of Appleton Vocational school, also attended the meetings. Prof. D. D. Lescohier of the University of Wisconsin was in caarge of the program.

Promotion from within provides for the recognition of meritorious services and offers at the same time a local opportunity for ambitious young men coming from the school system, Mr. Rosebush said in his talk on Modern Industrial Relations. Because of this opportunity, the future will bring closer contact between the school system and industry. Prompt recognition of what men are entitled to, based on their service, should be the main idea of all businesses, Mr. Rosebush said.

Regard for the collective mind of the mill is an important consideration in modern industrial relations Mr. Rosebush said. Employes of the mill who organize, not for grievances alone, but form committees which comprehend their obligations to the stockholders and are willing to act for constructive measures and no make their grievance the only justification of their existence are valuable assets to the company. Settlement of grievances alone must not be the only functions of shop committees, Mr. Rosebush said.

Speakers pointed out that service work of the mills has changed from the old idea of social welfare work to a definite process of rewards based on want and desire. Instead of forming athletic teams and social groups and forcing the men to accept them, thus catering to cliques, the better policy is to wait until a sufficient number ask for them. Another point brought up was cooperation in hiring and discharging men. This applied especially to floating help in normal times and skilled and more stable employes in slack times. Some plants steal employes from others by higher offers or priorty right of former employment. This should be done away with entirely, it was said.

One of the most comprehensive and timely speeches was made by James Sheeham, foreman of the Cutler-Hammer Co. Milwaukee who spoke on The Foreman and the Employment Manager. He said that foremen are sometimes considered the enemies of employment men, but this should not be the case The foreman is an employment manager and the two should work together and stand by each other in all decisions. Other important speakers were Prof John R. Commons, head of the University economics department who talked on Twenty-Five Years of Progress in Industrial Relations; Prof. D. D. Lescohier, who spoke on Our Problem; Prof Kerkhofer; Louis E. Reber, dean of the university extension division; Prof. "Steve" Gilman; Fred N. Wilcox, formerly of Appleton; Agnes Iverson, representing the women.

It was decided to hold another conference next year to be sponsored by various cooperative organizations of employment managers and factory heads. The complete record of the meeting is to be printed and placed at the disposal of those attending and any others who may be interested

Hardest Work Is Done In Reorganizing Scouts

Intensive reorganization work which has engaged the attention of P. O. Keicher, executive of Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, for more than six months since he assumed his position at last has borne fruit. Every city or village in the council now has its scout work actively in progress, with at least 12 troops functioning.

Mr. Keicher has worked in one place at a time overcoming the handicaps to scouting, which usually were either lack of a suitable meeting place or the absence of leaders. With the engaging of the village hall for the troop at Little Chute the last of these difficulties was overcome.

Appleton now has five troops engaged. These are at First Congregational, First Methodist, All Saints, St. Mary and Trinity English Lutheran churches Neenah-Menasha have four St. Thomas and St. Paul English Lutheran churches and Menasha Woodenware Co. Kaukauna has one troop, Kimberly one and Little Chute one.

More attention now can be given by Mr. Keicher to the training of the boy scouts, increasing the efficiency of the troops and planning such ovents, hikes, training school for leaders and perhaps a summer camp. He intends to push the leasing or purchase of a campsite on Lake Winnebago and as time permits will organize new troops in the places already represented in the council and in other cities or villages in Outagamie co.

Post-Crescent Information Bureau Helps Appleton Readers Solve Their Problems.

A solution of soda and quicklime in equal proportions, applied with a brush, will take old varnish from wood, according to information sent by Frederic J. Haskin, director of Post-Crescent Information Bureau, in response to a request of a Post-Crescent reader for a method by which varnish might be removed. The solution is made as follows:

The soda is dissolved in water, the lime is then added and the solution is applied with a brush to the old varnish. A few moments are sufficient to remove the varnish, which may be washed off with hot water. The oldest paint may be removed by a paste of the soda and quicklime. The wood should be washed with vinegar or an acid solution before repainting.

Post-Crescent readers confronted with perplexing problems may secure information and help by writing to Frederic J. Haskin, director of Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

How a storm sash can be kept free of frost and an explanation of the report of strange roaring and rumblings in the ocean were among other questions answered by Mr. Haskin recently. He says that ventilators put in the sash allowing a small amount of air to circulate between the sash is advisable to keep it free of frost.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN DAMAGE CLAIMS

Testimony was taken Wednesday in the courthouse in several workmen's compensation cases in a brief hearing conducted by the state industrial commission. Voyta Wrabitz was the examiner in the hearing.

Compensation is claimed by Miss Genevieve Pottner, 348 Second st, Menasha, for an injury she suffered in the employ of the Banta Publishing company of that city. The accident which occurred on July 29, 1924, resulted in a cut on her leg.

Additional compensation was asked by Roland A. Barfitt of New London who suffered a broken leg last year while working for the Hatton Lumber company. The fracture was caused by a 3 by 6 timber which fell upon him.

AMERICAN OPPORTUNITY

Some sixty years ago a lad of nine years was transported from a New York village to a Minnesota farm. He was of an obscure family, and there was no one to educate him or start him in life. This boy was like hundreds of thousands of other American boys, so far as his environment was concerned. He was comparable in this respect to the son of a poor workingman in a city like Appleton, or of a poor farmer in the vicinity.

But this young lad was different in some respects than many of the boys we see today, particularly those loitering about pool rooms, smoking cigarettes, carrying flasks on their hips and running the streets at night. This boy wanted an education and wanted to make a place for himself among his fellows. He worked on the farm by day and studied by night. By dint of hard perseverance and sacrifice he managed to attend the rural school and finally a graded school. This was as far as his means would take him, but he did not stop on that account. Although he could not attend a college he determined to be a lawyer, and managed to gain entrance into a firm in Rochester where he received his early instruction. His diligence, self-denial and capabilities attracted favorable attention. Gradually he got to his feet. Opportunities presented themselves because of the favorable regard in which he was held and because of his worth, and he took advantage of them.

Last Saturday this man was elevated to the second highest office in the American republic. He had previously been accorded distinguished honors. Frank B. Kellogg is the old, old story of the poor American boy who rises to fame, wealth and position through his own efforts and by his own resources. It is the oft-repeated romance of American opportunity in a living exemplification.

Countless boys and young men are throwing away their lives all around us because they lack fiber and the will to work and practice self-denial in order to get an education and make the most of opportunities. There are hundreds of such boys right here in Appleton. Many of them, when they grow up without an occupation or without the means of making a livelihood commensurate with their desires for spending, will be soured on the world and on society. Some of them will denounce American institutions and claim that this is the land of plutocrats, where the son of the poor man has no chance.

THE EARS OF THE NATION

Mr. William Arms Fisher, well-known Boston organist and editor for the Oliver M. Ditson music publishing house, has made a comprehensive study of the radio service. He gave some of his observations, the other day, to the annual convention of the Music Teachers' National association. He has found out that there are 538 licensed stations in the United States and 5,000,000 or more receiving sets in use, that the new industry employs 200,000 persons, and the daily sales of radio apparatus total $1,000,000. We may infer from those few statistics that there is still a latent demand for about 20,000,000 more sets in this country.

Mr. Fisher thinks that it is only a question of time when "the whole nation will be one vast auditorium." The public has become tired of "song-plugging" and other vulgarian numbers. "When the novelty wears off, fans will listen at their radios, not for the sake of listening, but for what they hear." "Music," he says, "is the life of the radio." The radio is a good, ethical, advertising medium for music and musicians. That the radio is stimulating interest in music is proved by the fact that the sales and royalties of publishers of better music are increasing.

Mr. Fisher sent out a questionnaire to station managers to get some information of value from their experience. The reports which he received indicated that dance music is more listened to than danced to, and that jazz music is less popular than it has been, but there is a strong demand for "well-layed syncopation."

One manager had an idea that the public preferred good music to inferior. However, cards which he received from listeners denoted that he was mistaken. He made a test one night. After offering an excellent concert by a capable string quartette, he announced that the most requests were for jazz, "and you will hear no more classical music from this station unless you ask for it." He then received twice as many requests for good music as he had ever got for jazz, and he concluded that jazz fans are ready letter writers.

"Nothing but great music, splendidly performed," declared Mr. Fisher, "is worthy of a national audience. And to conceive of stated times set apart when trivial things are put aside, and in a hush of a hundred million people, including all the stations and faraways from the Atlantic to the Pacific, listened to the voice of a great singer, or to a masterly orchestra or chorus under an inspired conductor, is not to dream in vain, but to visualize a possibility close at hand."

In fact, it will not be long until there are 25,000,000 receiving sets in use and 100,000,000 persons are listeners. Fans will listen then "not for the sake of listening, but for what they will hear." Commercially and socially, the radio is still in its infancy. Its possibilities, indeed, its certainties are tremendous.

JACKIE COOGAN'S MONEY

Jackie Coogan is earning more than half a million dollars a year, it's claimed. Yet his parents are only paying him $18 a week. He says, "As I get older, I will be advanced."

The idea, of course, is to make him appreciate money.

It should keep him from becoming "spoiled." Many parents will think $18 a week is too much for a lad of his age. His vast earning power and the luxury in which he lives must be taken into consideration. Everything is relative, and $18 isn't any more to Jackie than 50 cents to the average lad. Jackie returned from Europe recently with 27 trunks.

He talked to the reporters sensibly, intelligently.

The children of our generation do not have enough respect for money. The man who in boyhood thought a penny was as big as a house now has a son who is insulted at an offer of less than a quarter.

Maybe this is the root of what's wrong with modern youth in so many cases.

A child who isn't taught the "value of money" will go out into the world under a great handicap. It's worth the cost of a trip to New York just to take the children to the top of the Woolworth building and impress on them that this magnificent structure was the creation of a proper appreciation of the power of nickels and dimes. Transactions are in dollars, profits in cents.

Jackie Coogan is said to have to "work" for all the money he gets to spend. Whenever he figures out an idea for putting more snap into his movies, he gets a bonus of 75 cents. For a new gag he is given half a dollar.

Here, again, is wisdom. It keeps Jackie on the alert; stimulates his mind. He is absorbing the wholesome policy of furnishing service for every reward.

We know a shrewd father who has never given his son anything without making him earn it. If the boy wants even a penny he must perform a service even though it be no more than emptying a wastebasket for his mother. A trip to a movie must be earned by doing a chore, by keeping his belongings in order for a given period, or by being prompt at meals.

Honesty is in actually earning everything we get. And parents cannot begin too early to get this idea into youthful brains.

A bunch of foolish people in bathing suits jumped into the cold Hudson river with nothing chasing them.

The output of flivvers increased last year, there being no law against making or buying them.

These picture shows are awful. They are getting almost as rough as real life.

Owls are considered wise, and they stay in bed all day.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician And Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE IODINE RATION.

It is pretty well recognized now that every individual requires a certain amount of iodine, and if there is a shortage in the iodine ration some disturbance of health is certain to occur. The chief result of iodine shortage is perhaps simple goitre. In many parts of North America, notably the region around the great lakes, goitre is exceedingly prevalent, from one-fifth to one-half of all the school children in some cities showing more or less enlargement of the thryoid gland. It is now fairly well established that this is attributable to an iodine shortage, and there is ample experience to prove that the trouble may be prevented by supplying to every child an adequate iodine ration.

Numerous ways and means of supplying the necessary iodine have been tried out in different communities in the goitre districts. The city of Rochester, N. Y., placen an infintesimal quantity of iodine (in the form of an iodid) in the municipal water supply, thus insuring a moderate iodine ration for every person who drinks the water, but since so much water is used for other purposes than drinking, this seems wasteful. Aside from the cost, however, this means of furnishing a suitable iodine ration is ideal and Dr. Goler, the famous health guardian of Rochester, is entitled to great credit for concieving and putting the plan into practical use.

In some cities in Ohio the school children were given a minute dose of iodine once a week throughout the school year, which proved effective in preventing goitre, but of course did not affect other persons outside of the schools. In some cases they made a mistake of using a rather expensive proprietary iodine compound, an organic preparation, which has no advantage whatever over plain sodium iodid or potassium iodid or tincture of iodine, but even the health authorities are impressed by mystery and hokum.

The natural iodine ration is obtained from various foods, particularly sea fish and shell fish, and to a limited extent from vegetables and fruits, although fruits and vegetables grown far inland are likely to be deficient in iodine because the soil of inland and elevated regions is iodine poor. People living far from the sea are likely to get little sea food. If fresh sea fish or shell fish were available two or three days in each week, the use of these foods in the routine dietary would probably remedy the iodine shortage.

The means which seems to meet the requirements most effectively is the general use of iodized salt in place of ordinary salt for cooking and table. The salt manufacturers now market excellent preparations of iodized salt through the regular grocery trade. The iodized salt contains, by suggestion of the health authorities, 0.02 per cent of sodium iodid or potassium iodid, a little over a grain in a whole pound, but that is sufficient if this salt is used exclusively in place of common salt. Of course, the appearance and taste of the salt are not affected in the slightest degree. Every household where there are children ought to use iodized salt. In Wisconsin, I learn, the sale of iodized salt is prohibited by a peculiar law. But the sale and use of this desirable article is recommended by the state board of health in Michigan, West Virginia and other progressive states where iodine shortage prevails.

Dr. H. Eggenberger, chairman of the Red Cross section in Herisau, Switzerland, reports great success and satisfaction from the use of iodized salt in preventing goitre in that country.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Gasoline Lamps.

We live in the country and use gasoline lamps and a gasoline cook stove. Are they detrimental to the health of children? Is a kerosene lamp any less so? (Mrs. J. B. J.)

Answer.—Gasoline lamps are not objectionable from a hygienic viewpoint. A gasoline stove is as hygienic as any other kind if it has proper pipe connection with the chimney to carry the products of combustion or incomplete combustion out of the house. Any kind of cook stove or heating stove without flue connection, except electric stoves, is unhealthful and dangerous to life.

Somebody in this godfearing city of ours is throwing around a lot of gentle hints. Has anybody stuck one of these "Go to church next Sunday" stickers on your windshield or your show window yet? These are the tricks of the old fashioned bill collectors, but the church stickers are considerably more embarrassing.

An Appleton business man said he wishes his janitor had seen the fellow who was pasting those Go-to-church stickers on his windows, for if he had, he might have told him to go somewhere else. He called the practice more obnoxious than the Halloween jokes. Oh, pshaw! A fellow hasn't any liberty at all any more.

Etiquette Is Quite Changed From Early Day

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—While the modern American idea of correct manners is still a far cry from that of Beau Brummel, and despite the many attacks on the conduct of the modern youth, a desire to know and to do what is "good form" is becoming more general with the people of this country. This is evidenced by the sale of books on etiquette.

Until recent years it was considered by Mr. Average Citizn foppish or effeminate to attempt ot follow the rules laid down by authors of books on etiquette. And in many cases he was perfectly right. The dictates of the etiquette arbiters were very often stilted and artificial.

It is more and more becoming understood that the rules of etiquette are simply those of courtesy and thoughtfullness. A man no longer holds a cigarette or cigar in his mouth while talking with a woman. This is not because he would be violating the laws of etiquette, but because he does not wish to show her discourtesy.

SAME FUNDAMENTALS

Judging from some of the earliest books on good behavior it is apparent that the fundamentals remain the same. In fact, the earlier volumes are not as filled with affectations as some published during the period between 1890 and 1900. Below are given some extracts from a book entitled, "Youths Behavior, or Decency in Conversation Amongst Men," published in England in 1663.

"Sing not within thy mouth, humming to thyself, unless thou be alone in such sort as thou canst not be heard by others. Strike not up a drum with thy finger, or thy feet." This shows that even at this early date there were pests similar to those which all too often infest the modern movie theater, or other places of public entertainment.

Another particularly pertinent bit of advice which might be observed by many thoughtless persons who indulge themselves in peanuts or candies while viewing some especially tense motion picture is, "Rub not thy teeth or crash them, nor make any thing crack in such manner that thou disquiet anybody."

From the following one feels that the author must indeed have had a vision of the modern flapper:

"Neither shake thy head, feet, or legs: Rowl not thine eyes. Lift not one of thine eyebrows higher than thine other. Wry not thy mouth. Take heed that with thy spittle thou bedew not his face with whom thou speakest, and to that end approach not too night him."

NEW PROBLEMS NOW

While many of the dictates laid down in this early volume still hold good, the progress of civilization and of modern invention has brought new problems. Some of the present everyday questions are: "When leaving a street car or bus does a man precede or follow a woman?" "Where should a woman sit in a motor or carriage having a driver." "Should one always be announced when calling on a person living in an apartment house?" "When a person calls another on the telephone who should terminate the conversation?" "When calling for a young lady to take her for a drive is it proper to blow the automobile horn to announce one's arrival" Our forefathers had no need to struggle with such problems.

Formerly it was customery for a young man who wished to propose marriage to a young woman to ask permission of her father to do so. The youth of today who did this would doubtless find that while he may have made a good impression on the father he in all probability had ruined his chances with the daughter. The modern girl prefers to be given an opportunity to make her decision before the matters is brought before her parents.

Chaperons are another passing institution. That is, the watchful middle-aged chaperon is disappearing. In the present day it is generally difficult to distinguish the chaperons from the rest of the party, since the duties of chaperonage are usually entrusted to young married couples who are no older than the other guests and who enter just as eagerly and heartily into the festivities. This is another sign of the independence and freedom of the present generation.

Our idea of advertising a clothing store—is to tell the people what they want to hear—and then have in stock the article they want—when they want it—at the price they like to pay.

We are telling the 22,000 people in Appleton to-day that if any one, two, ten or one hundred of them need new O'coats—we can show them the fabrics they want to see—produce the models they want to wear and call off the prices they like to pay.

BOOST FOR SCHOOLS

Editor Post-Crescent: Since a High school girl has expressed her opinion concerning her Principal, I, as a teacher, feel that I may have the privilege of expressing mine.

Mr. Rohan has been my Principal for six or seven years. He has always been a gentleman, a Christian gentleman, honest, straightforward and sincere. His great interest in the welfare of children has been demonstrated to me any number of times. I am sure these are not the qualifications of a politician.

I think that I voice the opinions of the Second District teachers, of course there are always some who never cooperate and are not satisfied with anyone, this is true in any line of business.

No one has asked me to write this letter. I am not even in Appleton, this is not a political move on my part, I never bid for favors.

Before leaving this country, the nineteenth of this month, for several months' travel, I wish to express my sincere wish for the success of the new Junior High schools.

With the interest of the new superintendent in the welfare of the children of Appleton and the cooperation of the citizens of Appleton, there won't be a doubt of their success. It is now time to drop the word politics and everyone work toward the success of the new schools. I believe in cooperation, construction not destruction.

Here's to the Success of the new Junior High schools, may they be the best in the state, this is my most sincere wish.

Jean Jackson.

$100 FOR ARREST OF VANDALS WHO DESTROYED RINK

Advancement Association Takes Interest in Search for Troublemakers

Kaukauna—Several selections by a saxophone quartet from the American legion band of Appleton were played at the weekly meeting of the Advance ment association Wednesday evening in the municipal building. The business session followed the usual 6 o'clock supper. Reports and plans on the mid-winter fair to be held in February occupied most of the time.

A reward of $100 is offered by the association for the destruction of the ice rink on the ball grounds.

The association adjourned until next Wednesday evening. A committee composed of M. A. Raught, chairman, John Hopfensperger, John Bartsch and Peter Renn was appointed to provide a fish fry for the supper preceeding the meeting. Although a large group of business men was present this week an effort will be made to increase the attendance.

Enough members were secured to organize a saxophone band which, according to E. F. Mumm of Appleton, will be able to play at least three selections for the mid-winter fair. Arrangements for rehearsals probably will be made Friday when Mr. Mumm expects to begin the organization of bands in all the local schools.

The wager between Mr. Mumm and H. L. Donohue was settled with considerable amusement and to the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. Donohue had offered to buy a box of cigars if Mr. Mumm could prove his statement that anyone could play the scale on the saxaphone within ten minutes. Although he had never before held an instrument in his hands, Mr. Donohue was able to execute the required eight notes in slightly more than two minutes.

BUILD ICE RINKS AT TWO SCHOOLS

Kaukauna—The north and south road districts which were authorized by the common council to investigate the plan of building ice rinks at public schools have decided the rinks are necessary and have already practically completed their work. A rink which takes up the greater portion of the school grounds at Park school has been built up and is used every evening. Four large flood lights furnish all the illumination required.

The rink for the Nicolet school children is in process of construction. The ice is built up very carefully from the ground. The water is not flooded on but is sprayed about in a thin stream from an ordinary garden hose. The process involves a great deal of work but a better body of ice is the result.

DIFFERENCES OVER RIGHT TO SCHOOL PROPERTY ENDED

Waupaca-co Superintendent Is Given Part of Training School Fixtures

New London—The educational committee of the Waupaca-co. board held a meeting in the city hall here Monday, Jan. 12, to decide what was to be done with fixtures and barracks remaining at McKinley school, this city, which until this year, was occupied by the Waupaca-co training school.

There has been quite a bit of argument concerning this property, as to whether it was to go to the County Superintendent O. K. Evenson, or to remain here as the property of the city of New London. A short time ago, Mr. Evenson came here and attempted to move the fixtures, including a piano, to Waupaca. He was stopped in the proceeding by Jacob Werner of this city, a member of the county board, who claimed that Mr. Evenson had no right to some of the property he was taking.

Accordingly, the educational committee met here Monday to decide the question, and after two sessions, one in the morning and another again in the afternoon, gave Mr. evenson the supplies needed for the offices of the county board at Waupaca, and ruled that the piano and barracks should become the property of the city of New London.

The barracks is now being moved, with the piano, to the south side school, where the building will be used as a music and classroom.

Arbitration treaties with Germany and Norway have been signed, and others probably will follow soon.

The provisions concering rules and constitution of the arbitration committee in the agreement with Norway are drawn up in conformity with Sweden's proposal before the League of Nations in 1920. The two parties pledge themselves to submit to a permanent conciliation committee all disputes of whatever nature which cannot, within a reasonable period, be settled through the usual diplomatic channels and which are not to be submitted to the permanent International Court.

The Swedish treaty with Germany is similar but has a codicil to the effect that in case Germany joins the permanent Court of International Arbitration at the Hague or becomes a member of the League of Nations the settlement of disputes shall be transferred to the world court.

BOXER KNOCKS OPPONENT DUMB

By Associated Press

Paris—The plea of enthusiastic boxing fans, "Knock him speechless," was literally complied with during a bout between two lumbering heavyweights. They had been mauling and pulling each other through round after round when one accidentally caught the other on the point of the chin with a wild swing

The one on the receiving end of the swing went down like a log. He was revived after a few minutes, but was amazed to find that he could not articulate a single word. Realizing that he had gone completely dumb he fell off into a swoon.

It was four days before the defeated boxer recovered his speech Doctors attached to the French Boxing Federation declared that his jaw was not dislocated, but that the blow affected a nerve hitherto unknown to science. They are making a further study of the case.

TIDE OF EMIGRANTS FROM JAPAN TURNS TO SOUTH AMERICA

Small Population Makes Peru Dependent on Foreigners Who Settle There

By Associated Press

Lima, Peru — The economic future of Peru being largely dependant on immigration, because the native population is small, the country today takes an especial interest in the foreigners who journey from their own lands to settle within the boundaries of the Peruvian republic.

The question of the coming of Japanese has attracted attention, particularly as the Japanese quotas have lately increased. Also it is reported here that a company has been formed in Japan to encourage emigration to both Peru and Brazil. There is a feeling locally that the moment has come to regulate immigration from Japan; that within Peruvian borders Peru should safeguard her own interests. The ability of the Japanese successfully to engage in various enterprises, and in some cases to undersell native merchants, coupled with the fact that they are clannish and slow in assimilating the customs of the country, has not made them popular here. Nevertheless a treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between Peru and Japan, signed in Washington in 1895 and subsequently revoked, recently has been renewed.

Peru has in the past tried to stimulate immigration from Italy and Germany, whose people have been found especially adaptable to the needs of the country and who make good Peruvian citizens. A continuation of these efforts would, it is believed, find popular support.

There are today no restrictions upon the entry of Japanese into Peru yet remarkably few have so far come here. Reliable estimates place the present number at 10,000 Peru has a total population of 4,500,000. Lima counts about 6,000 Japanese residents, the others living in the provinces.

"Unlike the Chinese, whose entrance into the country is restricted and who, in many cases, are employed on the various ranches as coolie laborers, the Japanese are both progressive and enterprising. Many of them are engaged in lucrative business ventures, principally grocery and wine stores, furniture and wood working establishments, coffee shops, restaurants, barber shops, shirt factories, bakery establishments and general trade merchants In very rare instances do the Japanese in Peru engage in menial forms of labor. In the city of Lima, grocery stores especially are controlled by them, and they also control the only rubber manufacturing plant in the republic

Regarding recent reports that the recall of the Peruvian minister at Tokio was connected with the immigration of Japanese to Peru, information obtained in reliable quarters indicate such was not the case. The minister asked for leave of absence and transfer to another post.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 334L Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Rub It On At Bed-Time

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ELECT PRINCIPALS OF THREE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

BOARD VOTES $500 BOOSTS IN SALARIES

Junior School Principals Engaged at Salaries of $3,800 a Year

F. B. Younger, Dr. M. H. Small and A. G. Oosterhaus were chosen principals of Fourth district, Wilson and Roosevelt junior high schools, respectively, at salaries of $3,800 a year at the regular meeting of the board of education Wednesday afternoon in Appleton high school. At the last meeting it was decided to engage junior high school principals at salaries of $3,800. George H. Packard, representative from the First ward, moved that the salaries be reconsidered and later moved that these men be engaged to fill the positions at a salary of $3,800. Mayor Goodland and A. S Galpin voted against the resolution engaging the principals and fixing their salaries.

A question was raised as to whether the board of education could legally hire principals at this time. Mr. Packard answered that he had been told by a lawyer that it was within the board's power to do so, and asked that since the spirit and intent was right the board act so these men might purpose for the future.

At present Dr. Small is principal of the Third district schools Mr Oosterhaus is principal of the First ward school and Mr. Younger is principal of the Fourth district schools.

The board adopted a resolution that immediate steps be taken by the board of public works to prepare the Fourth ward school building for junior high school purposes before the opening of school in September, 1925. introduced by John E. Hantschel, member from the Fourth district. The resolution stated that when the members of the Fourth district school board voted for Junior high schools they acted on the promise that the Fourth ward building would be converted into a junior high school and for this purpose the city included $20,000 in the junior high school bond issue.

The high school district will receive $2,000 insurance as compensation for high school barracks, destroyed by fire last week. Lee C. Rasey, principal of the high school, announced. This includes $1,000 insurance on contents and $1,000 insurance on the building. The matter was left in the hands of the committee on buildings, grounds and equipment, with power to act, and it is probable that what remains of the barracks will be sold.

Charles Thompson and Judson Rosebush were elected to succeed themselves as members of the board of vocational education.

A. S. Galpin was elected delegate to a meeting of members of city school boards in Madison Feb. 5. The state provides that a delegate be sent to the conferences with expenses paid from the school funds.

A new accounting system for the schools was authorized.

Receipts of the football season amounted to $2,236.92, while expenses were $2,439.19, leaving a deficit of $202.27, a report read by Mr. Rasey showed. The reason for the deficit, he said, was because of a heavy guarantee to LaCrosse high school in its game here and incurred heavy expenses at the Marinette game. There is still $1,800 in the treasury of the athletic department of the high school.

The monthly financial report of the high school showed that it cost $10,469.94 to operate the school during December. Included in this are salaries, $8,916; equipment $171.59 supplies, $435.02; janitors' service, $405.

Expenses of the superintendent's office for December were $132.40. Revenues amounted to $11,697.81. Expenditures totaled $10,469.94, and the balance on Dec. 31 was $1,227.87.

LORENZ HELPED OUT OF JAIL BY AMERICAN LEGION

State Department of War Veterans Enlists Aid of U. S. Government

The Wisconsin department of the American legion took active part in securing the release from a Mexican prison of Dr. W. F. Lorenz president of the state board of control, who was arrested a few days ago by a Mexican force and lodged in jail as a filibuster. Lorenz was on a ship that had been wrecked near the coast of Mexico and Mexicans arrested the crew because a few rifles, used for shooting sharks were found on the boat.

L. Hugo Keller, state commander of the legion, got in touch with the state department of the United States government and with the American legion post at Tampico, Mexico, urging both to act with all possible haste to secure the release of Dr. Lorenz. Both promised immediate action and late Wednesday word was received that Dr. Lorenz would be liberated at once.

Dr. Lorenz, head of the state psychiatric hospital and a professor in the new medical department of the University of Wisconsin, had been in a dirty jail in the small town of Progresso, Mexico, since Jan. 10, it was revealed by a telegram from the doctor to Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, Madison Tuesday.

The noted physician has been through experiences since he sailed on a 100-foot fishing vessel out of Pensacola, Fla., which rival those of a lurid novel. He was held in the jail on charges of filibustering.

Mrs. Lorenz knew that her husband was on the boat, called the Ruth of Pensacola, and that he was detained in Progresso but the first news of his incarceration was contained in the telegram. In getting aboard the vessel he had achieved a lifelong ambition, she said.

CRUISE WAS LIFE WISH

Dr. Lorenz had been ill for three weeks and was confined to his bed because of overwork. When he was able to travel he decided to go south for his health and to get away from his official duties that he might recuperate He told Mrs. Lorenz that he hoped to take a long fishing trip, she said Wednesday.

"The doctor was reared on Long island and the sea always has held a charm for him," said Mrs. Lorenz. "He went south to recuperate and said that he would take a long fishing trip if he could. On the way down he met the commander of a yacht club who told him how he might achieve his ambition. The fishing vessel would not take passengers, so he shipped as mate.

"The doctor told me about this in a letter and said that the boat was a sailing vessel with two auxiliary engines of 35 horsepower each. The boat was to be out three weeks in the Gulf of Mexico, off the coast of Yucatan, fishing for red snappers. He was jubilant over the prospect.

WHOLE CREW ARRESTED

"What happened later I know only from his brief message. It says that the vessel was wrecked, but all hands saved. There were 10 members of the crew. It also tells about the whole crew being put under arrest. "We are now in jail at Progresso charged with filibuster or something equally absurd,' the message said.

"I have been concerned since I received the last letter for the doctor was not yet strong and since I have learned that he is in jail I can't keep from worrying."

C. OF C. PROTEST IN FREIGHT FIGHT FILED WITH I. C. C.

Communication Points Out Hardship to Shippers of Appleton

Formal protest was filed with the interstate commerce commission at Washington Wednesday by Appleton Chamber of Commerce against enforcement of increased freight rates in the western trunk line territory.

This protest is one of a number that will be filed from the Fox River valley as the result of a meeting of shippers and traffic men at Oshkosh Tuesday, attended by R. G Wort traffic adviser of the chamber of commerce More than 400 commercial organizations and large shippers in the western trunk line area are doing likewise.

Cancellation of the new rate schedules is asked of the commission The communication cites the amount of increase which will be effective in each freight classification and shows that Appleton shippers will be hard hit First class freight for points between Chicago and St Paul will be 16½ cents a hundred pounds higher, for instance, and second class will be 16 cents additional. The other increases range from 7½ to 18 cents. Commodity rates also will be affected in some instances, it is said.

The protest cites a misconstruction by the railroads of the commission's order to change rates between Indiana points and St Paul

Practically all the rate reductions granted by the railroads two years ago are wiped out by the changes, the figures show.

MOST PUPILS ARE RED CROSS MEMBERS

Practically 80 per cent of the pupils in the county schools system are enrolled in the Junior Red Cross. This organization has been retained since the World war and each year hundreds of pupils enroll and take up the activities of the service. The 50 cents subscription price for the Junior Red Cross News makes the giver a member of the organization, The pupils annually aid poor children in Europe by sending Christmas boxes A year ago the county superintendent's office sent 414 of these boxes containing toys and small articles of clothing No count was made of the number this year, for the boxes were sent from each school directly to New York. At present 102 of the 130 schools in the county have a 100 per cent enrollment in the Junior Red Cross, and the teachers are endeavoring to make a perfect record for the entire county.

ZEPPELINS NO LONGER ARE SEEN OVER GERMANY

By Associated Press

Friedrichshafen — Twenty Zeppelin plants have been destroyed since the end of the war under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, and Friedrichshafen alone remains as a reminder of a time when a Zeppelin was as common a sight in Germany as is an airplane along the aerial mail routes of the United States.

Zeppelin stations were distributed all over Germany, and there was even one in Bulgaria, which served as the point of operations in the Balkan theater of the world war Eight stations belonged to the government, and were used exclusively for military purposes. The largest of these was at Cuxhaven. It included one hangar with a turntable arrangement which enabled Zeppelins to land safely even during a storm

Among the centers where the Zeppelin company owned private stations were Dusseldorf, Potsdam, Frankfort, Hanover and Dresden. The entente insisted upon their destruction also fearing that, although they were private in character, they might any day be turned over to the military authorities.

Neglected Cough Dangerous—How to Stop It Quickly

When the delicate tissues of your throat are raw and sore from coughing, and your strength is exhausted with the constant hacking, you may fall an easy prey to more serious trouble. So stop the cough the quickest you can, before it creeps too deep.

By a very simple treatment you can stop the spells practically at once, and relieve the heaviest cough often in 24 hours. The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. With the cause treated in this way, the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. It simply helps Nature. It is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis and spasmodic croup. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. For sale at all good druggists. Ask for

MEXICAN FARMERS NEED READY CASH

By Associated Press

Mexico City—Discussion of a project for the establishment of agricultural and industrial banks to finance manufacturers and supply funds with which to develop lands which the government is restoring to the peons under the existing agrarian laws has been initiated by the permanent commission of the Bankers Convention, called to outline a new banking system for submission to congress

Mexico's agricultural future is menaced and crop totals already have been greatly reduced it was pointed out during the discussions, because many villages and individuals who have been awarded lands have been unable to work them as a result of inability to buy machinery and finance themselves until then first crops are sold Thus great districts, once productive, are now neglected and abandoned notably in the state of Morelos once one of the richest states in the republic

STAGE IS SET FOR 1925 POST-CRESCENT ICE RACES

RIPON IS FAVORITE OVER BLUE QUINT IN LITTLE FIVE TILT

Crimson Has Quintet Of Veterans To Meet Crippled Lawrentians

Ashman, Zussman and Kotal Slowed Up by Injuries, Leaving Heideman and Briese Only Vets in Shape

Prespects for a Lawrence victory over Ripon in the first Little Five conference game at Armory G here Friday night are gloomy. Ripon has a quintet of veterans with plenty of substitutes who have had much experience in previous years, and has proved its strength by defeating Cornell and Knox on successive days, and by holding the strong Coe five to a narrow margin in a Midwest conference game.

Lawrence has a good record thus far, but has lost two regulars and will go into the Ripon contest with three others crippled. To make matters worse, the Blues have practically no suitable substitutes to replace the veterans. Ashman, center, who started the season with a foot injured during the football season, injured it again in the game with Northwestern at Naperswille, and while he may be able to start against Ripon, the crippled foot slows him up considerably. Zussman, star forward, has been troubled with an old injury to his knee which he carried off from the football field, and Kotal at guard is bothered with badly blistered feet. Heideman, forward, and Briese, guard, are the only regulars in perfect shape.

A. C. Denney, coach of the Lawrence squad, has been working Grove at guard and Kosbab at center with considerable success. Both of these substitutes look good on the floor and have done fine work in scheduled games, but naturally they can not be expected to do as well as the regulars.

Little and Jones probably will start as forwards for the invaders. Little, captain, is a senior and has been with the team for three years, which is true also of his running mate. Gunderson at center, Hauser and Uri, guards, all are veterans of last season, and Ripon has enough substitutes to replace the entire quintet should this become necessary.

With these handicaps in mind, Denney has been working hard all week to get his squad in shape. With the regular lineup Lawrence would be the favorite and the injured men were spared in the heavy drill to give them a chance to recover. All of them will start Friday night, but it is doubtful whether they will be able to carry on throughout the game.

GEORGE HILLS WINS MATCH FROM CLAPHAM

Waupaca — George Hills Wednesday night took two straight falls from Sam Clapham, British heavy champion, in the headlines of a mat card here, which was attended by one of the largest crowds in recent years. Hills threw the Englishman with a double wrist lock in 24 minutes and 32 seconds for the first fall. He required but 11 minutes to pin him the second time, using an arm and body hold.

Hills, formerly of Appleton, is scheduled to meet Stanislaus Zbyszko here in Armory G on Jan. 22 or 23, and thereafter plans to resume his residence here.

New Mat King Adds Acting To Repertoire

Chicago—Wayne J. Munn, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, has had a repertoire of professions that might give him claim to a championship as all around performer. His versatility has been displayed on occasion, in the roles of teacher, preacher and clown.

Four days before Munn took the title from "Strangler" Lewis, he preached a sermon in the First Christian church in Kansas City at the request of the pastor, his friend, he says. Before that the young giant was successively a football star, an army lieutenant, a wheat hand, a circus clown, school principal and prizefighter. The last was the briefest part he attempted.

In the University of Nebraska he studied medicine for three years, took part in college dramatics and was a tackle on the Cornhuskers eleven in '16 and '17, in the latter year playing in the game which Notre Dame lost 7, to 0.

He went to war and was made an officer. Afterward he was principal of two schools in Nebraska. He has done Boy Scout work and has been a Y. M. C. A. instructor.

Wednesday he signed a $2,500 a week vaudeville contract to add the profession of actor to his list.

After that he has not decided what to do.

New York—The annual intercollegiate regatta probably will be rowed June 22 at Poughkeepsie over a three mile course on the Hudson.

Philadelphia, Pa. — Paul Berlenbach, New York middleweight, scored a technical knockout over Rocky Smith, Battle Creek, Mich., in the fourth round.

FOND DU LAC PIN MEET BREAKS ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Milwaukee Swells Lists With 446 Teams to Beat Mark Set Last Year

Fond du Lac—The largest number of bowlers in the history of the game in Wisconsin is scheduled for the 1925 state tournament which starts here Jan. 21. Official figures show that 1,123 teams have been entered.

Last year Janesville established a state record, but even though Fond du Lac has not been able to put the number of local teams on the drives that was anticipated, the state at large and Milwaukee in particularly have come to the rescue.

Out of the total of teams to roll during the tournament Milwaukee is sending 446, according to the latest figures. This is the largest number of Milwaukee teams to roll in any tournament outside of that city.

One Milwaukee entry which promises to hold considerable interest is Borchert's Pets. This outfit is composed entirely of professional baseball men. Eddie Schaak of the Kansas City Americans; Fred Mollwitz, St. Paul Association; Rube Lutzke, Cleveland Americans; Ralph Shinners, St. Louis Cardinals, and Art Bues, former major league player, are members of the team.

Entry List Of Third Annual Ice Tourney Closed At 6 O'Clock

Flooding of Rink Is Set Ahead to Friday Evening to Allow Plenty of Time for Preparations

The entry lists of the third annual Post-Crescent skating tournament close at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon with little more than half the number of last year's meet enrolled despite the fact that the entire Fox River valley is covered by the tourney. Thursday morning junior boys were leading with 17 entries. Senior men were next with 9, intermediate boys had 7, senior girls 4 and junior girls but 1, with prospects that these numbers would grow considerably before the closing hour.

Most of the applications came in during the last few days, among them several from Neenah and Menasha. Kaukauna, Hortonville, Kimberly, Little Chute, New London and other towns in the area were not represented although they had the same opportunity as Appleton and the Twin Cities.

Miss Ella Nickasch is the only entry in the junior girls' races. It is doubtful whether she will be permitted to race again in this class as she was among the winners in the same category last year and the rules require her to enter in the next higher class for the present tourney. This would bring the senior girls' list up to five and elliminate the junior girls entirely, unless enough entries come in before the lists are closed to make a race. This offers an easy opportunity for someone to win the gold medal with a minimum of competition.

In order to allow plenty of time for the ice to freeze and for marking off the course, the park will be flooded Friday night instead of Saturday, as had been planned at first. John Hoerning, caretaker of the rink, is making every effort to have the ice in the best possible condition. He will scrape it Friday afternoon and then flood it. No one will be allowed to skate in the rink after it has been flooded, until the tournament opens.

Myrtle Basing will be referee in the tournament. Jule Kevin, Appleton high school coach, Guy Barlow, his assistant, W. Wright, referee in the valley high school conference, and Louis Wagner of the Post-Crescent will be judges. Patrol judges will be E. Galpin, E. Sternard, L. Fischer and E. Madisen. David Bender will be straightaway judge, Maurice Cartier, clerk, and M. C. Roemer, scorer.

Other officials will be chosen from the staff of the Post-Crescent.

New York—Ladkin, conqueror of Epinard, with Lucky Play and Blind Play and Seventeen, two-year-old sons of Fair Play, were sold to W. A. Harriman for reported price of $250,000.

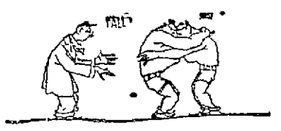

The NUT CRACKER

MR. BIG MUNN

FOR the first time in the flop-eared, non-skid history of wrestling the game has a Big Munn instead of a Big Bum as its champion.

Big Munn is a large, muscular product of the widen-open collegate spaces of Nebraska where men are men and, oddly enough, so are the wrestlers.

THE NEW ACE IN THE FLOP-'EM-AND-HOP-'EM DECK IS A HIGHBROW WHO HAS THE LOW DOWN ON THE GENTLE SCIENCE OF BONE-CRUSHING.

Big Munn is very collegiate and always wears his half Nelson at a rakish angle. The class of '23 still talks about how he shocked the junior prom by appearing in a double breasted head lock and a bright red scissors hold.

The Man Mountain is the only guy known to the academy of Higher Arts who ever threw a champion out of the ring, his senses, his title and a European tour, all with one delicate gesture of the micrometer.

Fox River Paper Co. Wednesday night retained its lead in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball league when it defeated the Bankers, 26 to 15, and shunted them out of the top hole. Island Paper Co. swamped the Shoemen, 31 to 15, and the Coated Paper five took its game with the Valley Sports, 21 to 15.

The Fox River five showed a strong defense, but the game was marred by frequent fouls. Cole starred for the Fox River team with 6 baskets to his credit and Stevens' defense was almost perfect. The Bankers staged a strong comeback in the latter part of the game, but were unable to overcome the big lead.

Warren Wright started scoring for the Valley Sports in their battle with the Coated Paper Co. with a shot from the middle of the floor, and thereafter continued to play a strong offensive game. Wenzel backed up his efforts well. Bradford and Sanders starred for the Sports.

The Island Paper Co. led all through its game with the Shoemen, after the first quarter, Bleier shooting 9 perfect baskets for the winners. Bleier and Bendt featured the Island Paper Co. attack, while Basing and Baehme starred for the Shoemen.

The Referee

A. claims that Jack Bentley of the New York Giants had a higher batting average than Rogers Hornsby in 1923. B says that Hornsby was the batting champion of the National League that year and topped the list. Who is right?—F. T. Y.

Both are correct in a sense. Rogers Hornsby was the batting champion, but two players, Steinrender and Bentley, had higher averages. Bentley batted .427, Hornsby .348, a difference of 43 points. However, Bentley was at bat only 80 times to 424 for Hornsby, and really didn't qualify for the championship.

What was Hellemann's average in 1923 when he led the American League batters?—G. H. J.

Hellmann batted .403 in 1923 to lead the American League.

What tennis players defended the Davis cup for the United States in 1923? R. M.

The players were Bill Tilden, R Norris Williams, Vincent Richards and William M. Johnston.

"Doc" Delmore's Five Beats Kimberly, 25-24

Kimberly—"Doc" Delmore's Two Rivers quintet Wednesday night nosed out a 25 to 24 victory over the Kimberly Athletics in the Kimberly clubhouse, while in a preliminary game the Kimberly Independents swamped the St. Paul Lutheran Young Peoples Society of Appleton, 46 to 3.

Koll started scoring in the main game when he caged the ball a few seconds after the tipup, but thereafter he ran into a bunch of hard luck and was able to repeat his early performance but twice during the rest of the game. The ball went close to the mark on every attempt, but most of the time it bounded from the iron or rolled around the ring and dropped outside.

Two Rivers was leading, 13 to 12, at the half, and in the next quarter advanced to 25 to 18. Boettcher and Koll came to the front in the next period, the former with two fieldgoals, the latter with one, and made it 25 to 24, with one minute to go. The Athletics attempted to make up the final basket, but were unable to break through the strong defense of the invaders.

Louis Loose made four baskets and one freethrow for Kimberly. Koll three baskets, and Cook and Boettcher each one. Dutch Wall, playing his first game with the Two Rivers five, caged five baskets and a freethrow. Becker made four fieldgoals and two freethrows, and LaFord and Huis each one basket.

In the preliminary game, the Independents took a lead of 22 to 0 in the first half, completely outclassing the St. Paul Lutherans in every department. Every man on the Kimberly team scored at least three baskets, Harp starring with nine. Behnke of the Appleton team scored a basket and a freethrow, the only tallies chalked up by his quintet.

New York — Mrs. Helen Vernet, Britain's only woman bookmaker came to America to rest at Palm Beach.

New York—Petitions calling upon congress to enact legislation by which the government will control baseball were circulated with a letter from Ban Johnson, American league president, supporting the plan.

Marriage Is Not Garden Of Rosebuds

BY CYNTHIA GREY

The cross word is the unsolved puzzle of married life

Why two people who cannot be happy apart should bicker and quarrel when they are together, is a problem as dual personality or a story by Conan Doyle

Of course no one expects a married couple to honeymoon all their lives

For people cannot remain madly in love with each other forever any more than they could live on top of Pike's peak forever The heart couldn't stand the rarified atmosphere!

Love—in cold fact—is not like love in books, a thing of chills and fever It is something better, a deep understanding comradeship

And marriage is—or should be—a partnership to which the wife brings sweetness and light, the husband, protection and pay envelope

The wife who quarrels with her mate or lets him quarrel with her is no kind of a wife at all

By this, I do not mean that people should chirp 'lovebird' and "little squirrel" to each other

For instance, there is the woman who forgets to kiss her husband when he steps into the vestibule at night, but greets him with this sort of monologue

Now, don't ask me if dinner's ready' Because is isn't The gas is low and the baby has yelled all day I'm worn to a frazzle—and oh dear, why can't I have someone to help me with the work like every other woman in the block''

The husband who can digest his veal loaf and scalloped potatoes after such a tirade is a Sandow or a Samson And few husbands are

People are not yet angels We are only passing, out of the cave-man stage,—and sometimes a thunderstorm is needed to clear away the domestic cloud. But every quarrel takes part of the silver lining with it to show the ugliness underneath

La Bruyere said that "Love comes all of a sudden But it doesn't go all of a sudden

Especially in marriage it dies a slow and lingering death poisoned by nagging and quarreling

It wouldn't be so bad if only the wife and husband were concerned But usually there is a family of little children who are dragged into the combat

Early in life they learn to take sides with Mother or Father instead of looking to both for comfort and peace If there have to be family battles they should be fought out of sight and hearing of the children

I knew of a wife and husband who fought for years over the husband's perfectly harmless desire to have dinner once of twice a month with his men friends

The wife couldn't believe that these dinners were innocent She pictured them as the sort of orgies the Roman emperors and their dancing girls used to have

She made a confident of her young son

The result is that the boy grew up "tied to his mother's apron strings" He never dared to displease her by spending his time with the other boys as a natural child would

In plain words he is a mollycoddle His mother has unfitted him for life by holding as perfectly normal father up to him as a horrible example. That boy is a casualty to the Great Family War

The big trouble is that most of us expect marriage to be a bed of roses It isn't It's a plain little kitchen garden for everyday use

And it must be weeded and tended if it's to live and grow Family jars are like thistles Where they thrive nothing worth while can survive.

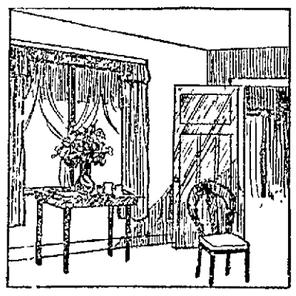

It is true that most of the famous lovers of history quarreled—Anthony and Cleopatra Napoleon and Josepaine Mary Stuart and the Earl of Bothwell

But all of them separated in the end, too' For no matter how great love is the little nagging quarrel will kill it in the end

Glaring Mistakes Are Made In Choice Of Expensive Furs

Don't Buy Cheap Coats of Furs That Take Away the Lines of Your Figure

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS

New York—"The most glaring mistakes that can be made in the selection of women's apparel are made in the most expensive accessories, furs and jewels," says Henri Bendel, the New York fashion authority.

"More good lines are lost in a fur coat than in any other type of wrap," he says "When choosing between a cloth wrap on good lines, trimmed with a little good fur, and a cheaper quality of fur coat, I always advise the former For unless a fur coat has distinction, it is no asset to any woman's wardrobe"

The days are over when a fur coat may be depended upon for a period of several seasons' wear, he informed me

"There used to be sort of a stock style for fur coats," he went on "Today if there are any new ideas in sleeves, scarfs, collars or hemlines they are immediately registered on fur coats A model that is up to the minute this season, will be a little passe next year

"For evening wraps nothing is more popular than the ermine wrap It is now worn by all types of sizes and ages of women As a matter of fact, while ermine is very difficult to wear, particularly for the mature woman, who is of generous proportion Black velvet or brocade, with chinchilla, ermine or fox, has infinitely greater possibilities for such a woman

"A rich fur wrap such as the broadtail and chinchilla one illustrated, should be attempted only by a tall slender woman who can wear it with a regal air

"Such a garment is a pure luxury It is not appropriate for all occasions and certainly has no place in the wardrobe that includes only one fur wrap.

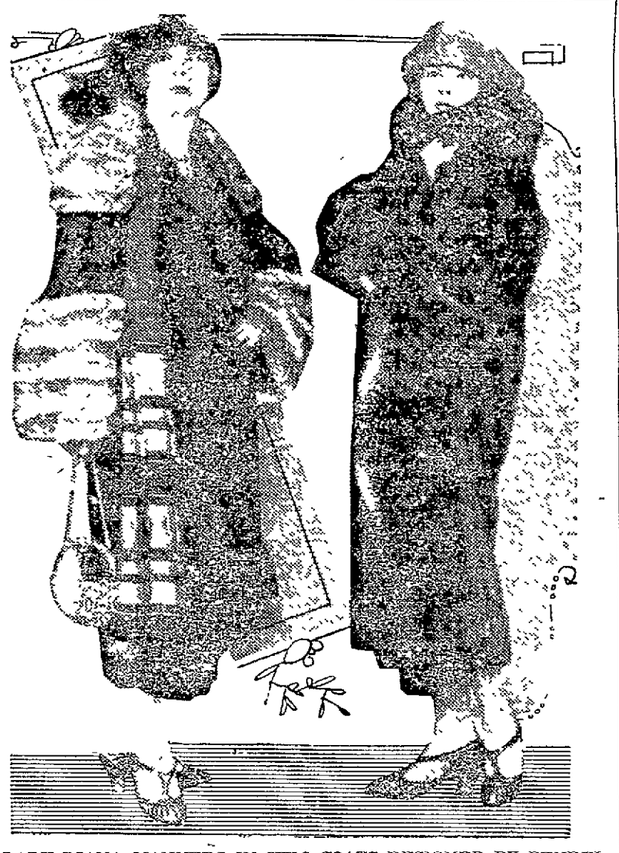

"A much more conservative model is the straight-line coat of mink with large collar and cuffs of the same pelts Here however, much of the beauty lies in the rich color effects With fur as elegant and beautiful in itself as mink perfection of line is absolutely necessary since it needs nothing else to set it off"

The short woman must be particularly careful in selecting her fur coat, he advises 'She must have a supple, soft type of fur that does not suggest thickness. She must keep to very long lines but not necessarily straight ones that suggest boxiness and squareness

"The tall woman, on the contrary, has much more latitude for selection She can avoid the appearance of angularity more successfully in a fur wrap than in a cloth one"

Spring will see many new and interesting fur treatments Bendel says

The short fur coat of last season tailored and bound with braid or ribbon, will be very smart for sport wear Sable, ermine, summer ermine and fox will be combined with the most delicate hued silks for dress wear and tiger and leopard will be extensively featured street gowns and wraps

LADY DIANA MANNERS IN TWO COATS DESIGNED BY BENDEL

Adventures Of The Twins

SANTA'S MAIL BOX

Away to the North Pole went John ny Sweet and the Twins All around them were Scotties and Chimney Swifts, the birds, all carrying notes to Santa Claus

So now, you know, my dears, when you write a note and put it up the chimney, how it comes that Santa Claus gets it. Either the Scotties or the Swifts take it And if they don't Johnny Sweep sees to it. And even the North Wind lends a hand and does its bit

At any rate the notes all get there And if you have no chimney just write a note and lay it on your window sill and it's all the same Santa Claus' messengers are everywhere And even if they don't take it, they read it there being so many notes to carry in all

I even knew a little boy who put his letter in a very secret place that nobody knew about' And he got 'most everything he wanted

The only thing I advise is There are a great many children, and if Santa Claus is short handed on workers don't ask for too terribly much He does the very best he can, poor soul Ah there is so much to do'

But there'

What on earth was I saying?

Oh yes' I know' It was about Johnny Sweep and the Twins flying on Johnny's broom to the North Pole

"Say," said Johnny Sweep. "I have an idea"

"What" said the Twins

"I don't think Santa Claus should have to scrape down old chimneys and get all covered with soot," said Johnny "After we have given him Ted's note and all the others"

"Neither do we' said Nancy and Nick.

"Well then' Let's take all our notes to Santa Claus and leave them in his mail box and then go back and sweep out chimneys," said Johnny

"That's a fine idea," said Nick "We'll just do it"

Pretty soon they came to a place near the Toy Maker's House that said, "Sub Station for the North Pole. All mail for Santa Claus promptly delivered"

And so they dropped all their letters in, Ted's too and started back home

But they hadn't gone very far when Johnny Sweep said suddenly, "I have a hunch'

"What's that?" asked the Twins

'It's a feeling' said Johnny. "It's a feeling that something is wrong. I'm going right back to the mail box and make sure that everything is all right

So he turned his broom and back they went And lo and behold, who should be sitting on that mail box but Snitcher Snatch, the terrible goblin

He had a string with a piece of chewing gum on the end and he was fishing He was fishing letters out of the mail box

Johnny Sweep took a big pair of scissors out of his pocket and cut the string

"Too much is plenty'" said he You have tried my patience long enough Get on my broom there, and I'll take you home"

So Snitcher Snatch just had to get on the broom whether he wanted to or not

And pretty soon they came back to Ted's house

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESTCOTT TO RUTH BURKE

DEAR RUTH.

Don't think I did not appreciate The reason I haven't answered and just the kind of news in it that I wanted to learn I don't think you can realize how grateful I am to you, dear, for all you have done for me.

The reason I haven't answered your dear letter before this was because it reached me in the morning, and that evening Jack came in Of course I did not know he was coming, and as luck would have it, I had gone over to Alice Van Courtland's to play mah jongg Mother had insisted upon it She said I was getting into such a nervous state that she could hardly live with me, and that my father was much perturbed over my unhappy face

This was news to me, as I thought I had succeeded in making dad think I was very happy.

Alice was having a large party and mother insisted upon me going in evening dress I had hardly gotten there, however, before mother called me on the phone to tell me that Jack was at the house He had brought little Jack and his nurse and both of them were much disappointed because I was not there to greet them

I could hardly speak Ruth, over the phone My heart was beating so fast that I could see it

Mother said little Jack was particularly heartbroken, because he had been told he was going to see muvver at grandma's house, and when he found that he was at grandma's house and I was not there, he seemed to think every one was in league to keep him from his sweet muvver.

At that moment his voice was raised in such an overpowering and irrepressible paroxysm of sobs and wails that I could hear him over the phone Happily the car was waiting for me Like a wild woman I rushed through the people Alice had invited with the exclamation: 'Jack and my baby are at mother's'"

When I got into the car I was shaking so my teeth chattered, but I managed to calm down a little before I arrived at the house

You know what Jack is when he is disappointed—when his plans go awry Well I believe he was never more disappointed in his life, than when he arrived at the house and found I was not there As near as I can make out he had expected to come and find me just inside the door, my arms outstretched the string of pearls in my hand ready to fall on his neck and ask forgiveness and to hand him the necklace to be sent to Kar'

Instead he found me at a party—and worse than that, when mother sent for me and I came in all dolled up in evening clothes I was wearing the pearls'

That was the last straw I wish you could have seen his face when he saw me It was something I will never forget I think he would have snatched those fateful beads from my neck if mother and Nora had not been there

He came forward without any enthusiasm, and bent to kiss me Ruth there is nothing in all this world that is colder than the kiss an angry man gives his wife when he thinks he must pretend to his in laws that he is still an adoring husband

WEAK, RUN-DOWN NERVOUS, DIZZY

Mrs. Lee Suffered From All These Troubles, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well

Terre Haute, Indiana.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time and dizzy, had no appetite and could not sleep. I tried different medicines for a year but they did not help me. Then my husband saw the ad. for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and had me take it. I regained my strength and never felt better in my life. It completely restored me to health. I had practically no suffering when my baby boy was born and he is very strong and healthy. I know that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine a woman can take before and after child birth for health and strength. I would be willing to answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. WM. J. LEE, Route E, Box 648, Terre Haute, Indiana.

Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles.

To Stop Flow Of Blood Use These Means

So frightened was Mrs Mann of Anytown when one of her youngsters cut a hand with a paring knife, that she decided to read all she could find about stopping the flow of blood.

Blood from arteries is a bright red, and it comes in spurts, she learned No effort should be spared to check the flow quickly

If the wound is on the arm or leg this can usually be done with an application of a bandage between the wound and the heart.

Elevate the limb, and place the knot in the bandage over the artery Twist the bandage until it is very tight

Do not attempt to remove dirt from the wound until the bleeding has stopped

Then pick out the dirt or gravel, and wash the wound and adjoining parts

A small amount of carbolic acid should be placed in the water, one teaspoon to the pint or add two or three teaspoons of table salt

When the flesh is torn the parts should be replaced as nearly as possible before the edges are brought together.

This will help to prevent an ugly scar.

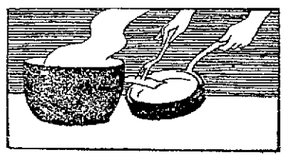

Household Hints

DELICIOUS OMELET

A few teaspoonsful of chopped ham or grated cheese, or a few peas or tomatoes added to the omelet make it more delicious and offer an excellent way to use leftovers

PARBOIL BACON

Bacon is much more delicious if it is first parboiled and then fried very quickly.

USE CREAM

If a very rich white sauce is desired, use cream instead of milk

KEEP COVERS ON

Be sure to cover the flour barrel sugar-bucket or spice cans as soon as you have taken what you need

SPOIL QUICKLY

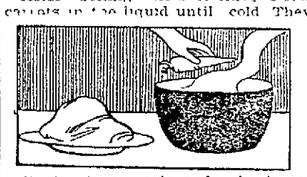

Cornmeal and hominy spoil quickly, hence they should be purchased in small quantities and kept in covered jars or cans

EARTHEN BOWLS

An earthen bowl and wooden spoon is preferable to metal implements when mixing cakes or muffins

USE CARROTS

After boiling salt beef leave a few carrots in the liquid until cold They will absorb the salt and the liquor can be used as a foundation for soup

Candy Recipes

LAST MINUTE FONDANT

Put 2 cups of confectioner's sugar in a bowl Add a few drops of boiling water, stirring with a wooden spoon until the sugar is the right consistency to handle Flavor with a few drops of oil of peppermint or wintergreen and drop on oiled paper. More water can be used if flat wafers are made Or add ½ teaspoon vanilla keeping the fondant stiff, and fill stoned dates with the cream

This fondant can be combined with chopped nuts, made into a roll and cut in thin slices. It is used as real cooked fondant is used and requires no "ripening"

FRENCH ELIMINATE GEARSHIFT, CLAIM

New Invention Tested Two Years but Not Yet Ready for Market

Paris.—The death of the gearshift in automobiles has often been announced, but the funeral has never taken place. The latest advance notice of the passing of the gearshift and the differential is a complicated mechanism shown first at last year's automobile salon, and exhibited again in perfected form this year by one of the leading makers of France.

It has been tried for two years on trucks and some test cars, but probably won't get on the market until next year. It is a series of ratchets automatically thrown into action progressively as the car gains speed so that the motor, continuing to turn at a normal speed applies its power at what corresponds to a very low gear at the start, and at an increasingly higher gear as the speed increases, until direct drive is reached.

As there is neither differential nor gearshift the driver has only to start, let in his clutch and step on the accelerator. The amount of gas alone determines the power applied, and the speed is dependent upon the power required to move the car.

Besides simplifying a car, this mechanism is intended to obviate shock to the engine and prevent stalling the motor. If a heavy load were put suddenly upon the engine the mechanism automatically would adjust itself, changing the gear to a lower one that would allow the engine to maintain an efficient speed while propelling the car at a slower rate.

BETTER LAWS, NOT MORE, BLAINE URGES IN TALK

themselves to a spirit of cooperation," he added.

The governor appended two tables one showing the amount of taxes on general property for county, local, school and state purposes and the other showing the general property tax levy for state purposes only.

TAX LEVY INCREASES

"You will observe that in 1915 the total tax levy on general property was $43,665,640, while the total tax levy on general property in 1920 was $96,250,457," the message declared, thus showing an increase of more than double in six years prior to the Blaine administration, an average of almost $9,000,000 a year. The increase for the last four years has been less than $1,000,000 a year, he pointed out. He also called attention to a decrease in the tax levy on general property for state purposes in the last four years.

Giving figures on the balance in the state funds, he declared that "never in the history of the state were the state finances in such sound condition." The large available net balance in the general fund, however, "is not intended as an invitation to the legislature to squander it," he asserted.

Governor Blaine recommended that the gasoline tax "be collected from the wholesaler or importer of gasoline; that it be collected by the state treasurer from the reports and information to be furnished him by the supervisor of oil inspection, without the creation of a single or other state organization than now exists."

His plan for distribution of highway revenues follows:

That 8 per cent of such revenues be alloted as a free fund, under the jurisdiction of the highway commission, to be used on the state trunk highway system in filling in gaps and in meeting unusual conditions, with the view of completing by hard surfacing main trunk highways traversing the state, north and south, east and west, with convenient diagonal connections, and so restrict—as to assure the various sections of our state their fair share thereof;

ALLOT HIGHWAY ACT

That the federal aid highway be classified as primary and secondary highways, and that for maintenance and marking thereof and the state trunk highway system, there be allotted from $300 to $500 per mile, and that the counties which have bonded themselves for highways shall have the privilege of applying a part of their maintenance allotment toward the retirement of bonds;

That for various minor items, such as swing and lift bridges, special bridges, park roads, and material surveys, a reasonable sum be alloted.

That for city and village streets there be alloted a reasonable, fair amount, and that for the purpose of such allotment such municipalities be classified according to population, and that the allotment be on a mileage basis, ranging from $25 to $200 per mile for maintenance;

That for local and town roads there be alloted not less than $25 per mile for construction and maintenance.

That to the counties, for construction and maintenance of the county system of prospective state highways, fair amount of the balance of such revenues be alloted, and I suggest that the sum thereof should not be less than presently provided by law;

And that the balance of the highway revenues be alloted to the counties as a construction fund for the state trunk highways and to meet the federal aid.

The governor recommended that the allotment to counties for construction of the 10,000 miles of state trunk highways be upon two bases, first, upon the basis of number of miles under the state trunk and federal aid system; second, upon the basis of number of automobiles registered for each county, the larger portion to be upon a mileage basis.

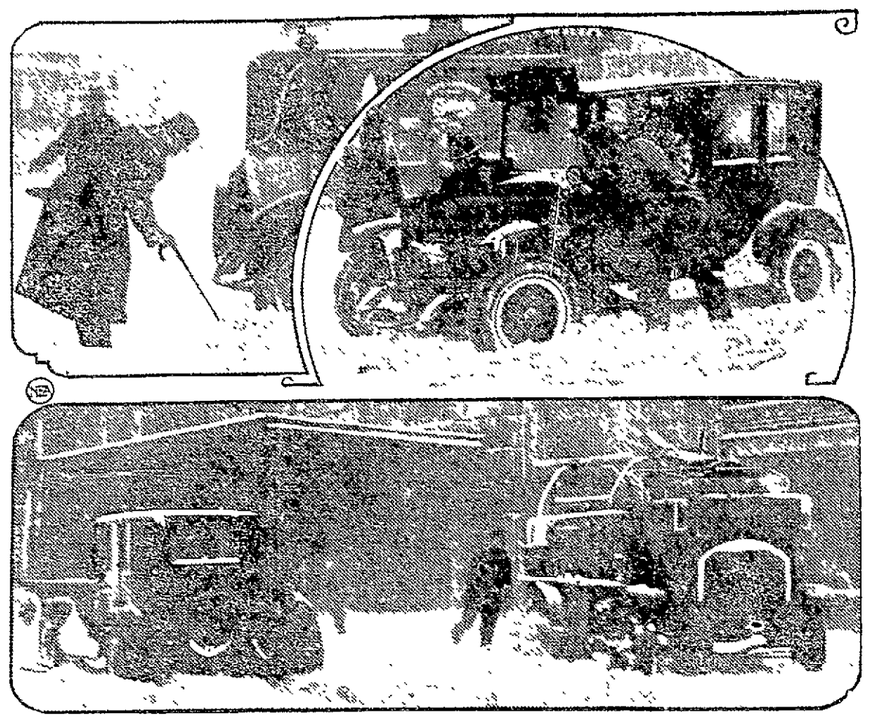

"By carrying out the recommendations relating to highway revenues and the equalization of taxes I can confidently predict that there will be a substantial reduction in taxes on general property, running into millions of dollars per annum, declared the executive.

In reduction of boards and commissions, the governor recommended

Repeal of the laws providing for ex officio members of the highway commission and pulpwood inspection. He also recommended abolition of the administrative board of the geological and natural history survey, reduction of appropriations for the department and placing its administration under the university board of regents.

"I favor such other consolidations and abolitions of boards and commissions as may be possible and desirable," he added.

WHEN NEW YORK WAS BURIED UNDER DRIFTS OF SNOW

ATTORNEYS ARGUE IN $15,000 SUIT

No conclusion was reached Thursday in the trial of the damage suit of Miss Belle Burstein of Neenah vs. Dr. M. J. Sandborn of Appleton which was started in circuit court on Tuesday. It is based upon alleged injuries and disability resulting from an x-ray burn on Miss Burstein's hand. All the testimony in the case was completed Wednesday afternoon, which left all of Thursday morning for attorney's arguments to the jury. The plaintiff is represented by Martin, Martin, Martin, Clifford & McHale of Green Bay, and the defendant by Attorneys Ryan & Carey of Appleton and by J. T. Guy of Milwaukee.

It Happens Every Day

Mrs. Thomas had decided that one of the best and easiest ways to add to her income would be to rent the sunny room on the second floor that was never used except when Aunt Bessie made her annual visit to town.

So she lettered a neat sign, announcing to a waiting world that she had a "Vacancy," and put it in one of the parlor windows. In the meantime, she cleaned the room and prepared everything for the rush of lodgers.

But, somehow, the rush became side-tracked or never got started, because at the end of two weeks it looked as though Aunt Bessie could have her regular room whenever she came for her next visit.

And Mrs. Thomas was distressed and puzzled to know why her attractive room didn't draw any applicants—until she happened to talk the matter over with a neighbor who dropped a wise suggestion—

And Then She Called 543!

And her little ad in The Post-Crescent's Rooms For Rent column drew a half-dozen applicants and found a thoroughly desirable lodger—all in less than three days!

FORUM WILL HEAR DISCUSSION OF GANDHI MOVEMENT

Hannum Will Tell How United States Is Affected by Indian Insurrection

Robert F Hannum of Lawrence College, will address the Y M C A Forum meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Y M C A on What the Gandhi Movement in India Should Mean to the United States Mr Hannum is exchanging Sundays with the Rev H. E. Peabody who will be out of town this week

Mr Hannum is particularly able to talk on the Gandhi movement because he as present at a dramatic and exciting meeting of Indians on August 10, 1921, at which he heard Gandhi speak and met him. The Hindu reformer was carrying on his noncooperative campaign against the British and white people were open to violence from the attacks of the incensed Indians Mr Hannum's students came to him one day and asked him if he would like to attend one of the important Gandhi meetings, and although it was dangerous for a white man to make the attempt, Mr Hannum felt that the experience was well worth the danger The possibility of being classed as a Gandhi follower also arose, because it was a rare thing for a white person to attend the massmeetings.

Over 10,000 Indians were gathered in the huge Home Rule League grounds waiting for Gandhi to arrive when Mr. Hannum joined the spectators. Two platforms had been raised in the square, one for the speakers, and the other to hold all the English and European clothes which frantic Indians could gather together. After the speeches were completed the plan was to set fire to the clothes, and to symbolize for the people still further opposition to all things British. Faggots were placed beneath the platform.

Mohammed Ali, a Turk agitator, spoke to the mob first. Then Gandhi arrived. But the masses had already set fire to the clothes and a mighty shout went up as Gandhi began to speak. The crowd went wild at the sight of the conflagration, and it is a tribute to the magnetic personality of Gandhi that he could calm the excited mob with the words "Shanti! Shanti (Peace)

Mr. Hannum left the meeting before it broke up, since it was unsafe for the only white man in the audience to put himself where he could so easily be mobbed. However, he has the very vivid experience to tell at the Sunday forum, and has also many things to say about the effect of the movement on the people of America.
